

C55.2/5

C55.2/3

Treasury, 19th Nov. 1847

My dear Sir,

As I am the medium of making the largest, I am not ashamed of being the channel of what will probably be the smallest, separate contribution to the necessities of Ireland.

The enclosed sovereign was given me to send to Ireland by a young man, whose conscience accused him of not having put enough into the plate on the occasion of the Queen's Letter, and as he glories in the name of "Catholic", and is more than half a Roman Catholic, I recommend you to give it to the Sisters of Mercy, or

Some other of the good Sisters, to help to feed the Children.

Yours Sincerely,

Whitby

May let me know what is done with it.
