

Brighthouse

Sr. Ambrose continued her work in Leeds until her death. Other Sisters who served there were: Teresa Walsh, Monica O'Sullivan, Gertrude Igoe, Finbarr O'Mahoney, Monica Scahill, Carmel Healy, Gretta Cummins, Eileen Egan. They served there and linked with many Irish people in the area, ministering in the Brighthouse area until January 2001. Sisters Teresa Walsh and Gretta Cummins were the last two to live in the house, and they stayed until January that year, in order to serve at the Salvation Army Christmas dinner. They had hoped to sell the house before they left but, though interest was shown in it, it took some time before it was eventually sold.
