

Jefferson City and Wardsville

They departed on August 18th, 1960. They had been led to understand that the Convent was ready to be occupied. This was not so. The Bishop's house was their home for the first three months. Then, in 1970, some Sisters started to teach in Wardsville about seven miles from Jefferson City. They did pastoral work in the parish. The Convent in Jefferson City was vacated in 1990 and Wardsville Convent closed in 2003. Twenty-seven Sisters served in St. Joseph's Parish and fourteen in Wardsville.